

Victims registers

The victims register means you can find out

- when the person who hurt you will get out of jail

or

- if the person who hurt you is on parole.

Parole is when the person who hurt you is let out of jail. The person has to follow rules.

For example, the person must stay away from some people or places. If they break the rules, they may go back to jail

or

- the person who hurt you escapes from jail.

Police should tell you about the victims registers.

There are 3 victims registers in NSW.

The Victims Assistance Line will help you.
