

REPORTING CRIME TO CRIME STOPPERS

1800 333 000 -

People who are Deaf or hard of hearing, or who have a speech impairment

Contact your local police or Triple Zero (000) immediately if criminal suspicious behaviour is occurring now (refer to Reporting crime to Triple Zero (000) for people who are deaf, or hard of hearing, or who have a speech impairment).

If criminal or suspicious behaviour or activity is not occurring right now, people who are deaf or hard of hearing, or who have a speech impairment can contact Crime Stoppers through the National Relay Service.

A professional relay officer becomes the central link in the phone call relaying what is said by both parties. Relay officers stay on the line throughout the call to provide assistance, but don't change what is being said or get in the way of what is being said.

Crime Stoppers provides for the community to report information about crime and criminal activity.

If your information is about criminal activity including children that may be at risk of harm, please contact Crime Stoppers immediately so that your information can be immediately reviewed.
